FRENCH PLANE LOCATES MISSING PILOT.

Paris, To-day. Lady Bailey, the aviatrix, has been found safe and well 20 kilometers south-west of Tahoua, Niger. She had to makea forced landing owing to shortage of petrol.

A French plane which was searching for the flyer, located her, reports the French Air Ministry.

Lady Bailey, who was attempting to establish a new record for the England-Cape flight, has been missing since Sunday night, when she left Oran, Algeria. Grave fears have been entertained for her safeity, since when she left Oran she was suffering from a slight attack of influenza and a rising temperature.

RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF NORMAL INTER-EXCHANGE OF COMMODITIES, A GENERAL AGREEMENT FOR PROGRESSIVE RELAXATION AND EARLIEST ABROGA-TION OF THE EMERGENCY RESTRICTIONS ON TRADE AND AN AGREEMENT FOR THE MODIFICATION AND STABILISA-TION OF TARIFF POLICIES IN FUTURE IS URGED IN THE REPORT OF THE PREPARATORY COMMITTEE OF EX PERTS FOR THE WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE.

The Report emphasises the necessity of an early settlement of the debts question and urges the restoration of an effective international standard to which countries which have abandoned the gold standard can adhere. Each Government, however, must be free to decide when and how they could apply such a standard.

The fall in commodity prices NO FURTHER might be counteracted by a general policy for easy money to promote the healthy extension of business and the regulation of exports or production, especially of wheat.

The abolition of the measures of exchange control is an essential condition to world recovery, but the abolition is possible only if there is a lasting balance in the Budgetary system of all Governments concerned.

The Report emphasises that no commitment of any kind is entered into by British delegates with regard to returning to the gold stan-

BRITISH IMPORTS IMPROVE

Heavy Fall In Japanese Share Of Trade.

H. K. EXPORTS DECLINE BY 12.9 PER CENT.

A preliminary report issued by the Statistical Office of the Imports and Exports Department states that, in terms of Hong Kong currency, the trade of the Colony suffered a decline during the year 1932, as compared with 1931, to the extent of $183.7 millions, or 14.4 per cent.

The declared value of imports in 1932 amounted to $624.0 millions (£41.0 millions, as compared with $737.7 millions (£38.5 millions) in 1931, while exports totalled $471.9 millions (£31.0 millions), as against $541.9 millions (£28.9 millions).

Imports declined by 15.4 per cent. and exports by 12.9 per-cent.

in view of the constant fluctuaions in exchange rates and commodity prices, it is exceedingly difficult to assess the actual volume of trade during the year 1982, but an estimate which, of necessity, cannot be strictly accurate, places the total decrease in volume at 10 per cent. In regard to imports, Great Britain; China, French Indo-China, Siam, India and Australia, increased their share of the trade at the expense of Japan, Netherlands East Indies, U.S.A., Germany and the Straits . Settlements; the British share of the imports amounting to 12.3 per cent. as compared with 10.6 per cent. in 1931, and 9.4 per cent. in 1980, while the Australian share increased from 0.7 per cent. in 1980 to 0.9 per cent. in 1931, and 1.9 per cent. in 1982.

The Japanese share of the trade steadily increased quarter by quarter, during 1932, but recorded only 3.4 per cent. of the total as compared with 9.3 per cent: in 1931, and 12.3 per cent. in 1930.

Treasure movements showed a considerable increase, mainly on account of heavy transfers of silver subsidiary coin from Canton to Shanghai. Imports from Canton in 1982 amounted to $24.7 millions in the same period.

Crisp white organdi-muslin was the material used for the curtains, cushion-covers, and dressing-table draperies. This, of course, is an excellent choice, as it can be easily washed, and will look fresh as long as it lasts. The plain whitewood dressing-table had an undernetticoat, of casement cloth, because the muslin is a little too transparent alone.

The table-top also was covered with casement cloth, which material formed the lining of the scalloped heading to the muslin draperies. A sheet of glass on top of the table kept the cover clean and dust-proof.

The edges of the scallops were bound with scarlet cotton biasbinding, and little groups of different-sized spots were worked above the points to match those on the petticeat. Bright coloured cottons were used for the embroideriesscarlet, cornflower, buttercup, and Circles were first drawn on to the organdi, the largest spots being obtained by pencilling round a half-crown, others round a shilling, a sixpence, and, smallest of all, a three-penny bit. Then, beginning from the centre, the spots were filled in by working round and round in chain-stitch. tains were embroidered to match. the larger spots along the bottom, and the small ones above.

. Another good scheme could be worked out by embroidering the spots in one colour-say cherry, or lupin-blue. Or a spatter of black spots on snowy muslin would make 1/2 hour or until the vegetables are an uncommon scheme, especially if the woodwork and furniture together and add them bit by bit, were enamelled emerald, mustard- stirring each piece in well before 26s, Des Vocuz Road Central, yellow, or wedgewood blue.

MAKE A HALO OF YOUR HAIR.

New Idea From London Hairdresser.

Women's hair can now be made to gleam in the dark. Can you imagine row upon row of women's heads shining pink, green, red, blue or purple in the blackness of theatre?

This is, the very latest of fashion's foibles. A famous London hairdresser has invented a harmless dye that is sprayed on the hair in colours to match the evening gown.

As soon as the lights go out, our heads are surrounded by a thrilling phosphorescent halo. longer will an expensive coiffure be wasted in the hours of sitting VARIETY WITH ONE in a darkened theatre. Every line will reveal itself with, a ghostly brilliance.

At close range this fashion looks ike drifts of powdered coloured snow thrown on the hair. It makes the brunette look angelic and the blonde almost ethereal. It is only when one sees red on the black hair that one is slightly startled at the effect.

PARIS CONCENTRATES ON SPORT WEAR.

There was a time when the Paris couturiers left Sports clothes alone, but this season most of them have gone all out on this section In the main, their fabrics have been woven on English looms.

Patriotic as one may be, internationalism in dress is all to the good. At least it has contributed to the reconciliation between town designers have undoubtedly look at all heavy. FROCK.

Changes With Waist Coat Scarves.

The straight frock of plain material can be made to look different every morning if you like. The secret is a few hand-made waistcoat scarves. The scarf is a straight piece, long enough to go round the neck and allow the ends to reach down to the waist band in front. Round the neck part an addition band is worked to stand up like a little collar.

The collar is arranged, a little pin is put in at the back to keep all trim, the ends of the scarf are laid down the front close together, pulled taut, and slipped under the belt of the frock. Any you have a very attractive waistcoat in knitted or crochet silk.

There is a whole heap of private cheering going on among the games enthusiasts. No longer are their clothes just dull and sensible they have managed to acquire an air which is jaunty and alive and at the same time have lost none of their practical qualities. They have the fullness required for active playing, but it is not bunched up fullness gained by pleats that are as obvious as they are large, and a whole wealth of adjectives could be used to describe the attractive colours which are being used by even the most conservative of tailors.

SIMPLE FACE MASSAGE.

Face cloths of rubber may sound rather extraordinary but there is nothing revolutionary in using rubber on the face, we have long used rubber sponges.

These cloths are about twelve inches square. Their surface is soft and crepe-like, in pale colours with bindings of darker rubber.

The rubber has a particularly good effect on the skin. It is not too vigorous, yet it supplies just the amount of massage needed to tone up facial muscles.

ATTACK AUSTRALIAN ENGLISH BOWLERS

"PLUM" WARNER IS CLEAN BOWLED.

Almost transcending in importance the battle for the Ashes a H. Knill, M. Alun-Jones, P. M. Harrop, wave of condemnation of the English fast bowlers and their leg theory tactics, not only in the Test matches but also in the games against the States, is at present sweeping Australia.

The feeling in Australia is bitterly strong and is epitomised in second eleven will be represented the following article by W. M. Rutledge in the Sydney Referee, in by the following:which P. F. Warner is pilloried for his faiture, as manager of the O'Hagan, A. Owen Hughes, B. Frank-lin; E. Hell, J. Whyte, E. Bonnar, M.C.C. team, to take action against the English bowlers.

MACGREGOR

COURSE TESTED.

ARRIVED LAST WEEK.

Whenever you see the name Macgregor on a Golf Club or Golf Ball, you can be assured it has qualified by test for the work it has to do.

MACGREGOR CLUBS are made of the finest material and by the most careful hand processes in modern workshops. Finally, they are built by maker-players who know the game and play it on our own private course.

ARSENAL SHOULD STAGE COME - BACK

Wednesday May Give Place To Villa.

SPURS IN SEARCH OF POINTS.

Pompey Visit Wolves. (By RANGERS.)

THE Arsenal's defeat at Sunder-L land, followed by their sensational Cup elimination at Walsall, suggests that the Highbury side are suffering a relapse. Be that as it may they should regain their form against Manchester City, who are still interested in the Cup, at Highbury to-morrow.

THE Wednesday will encounter A stern opposition at Blackburn and it will be surprising if they secure even one point. Wednesday's eclipse at Chesterfield on Wednesday and the fact that the Rovers survived the Fourth Round of the F.A. Cup may, however, inspire the visitors on to an unexpected success.

FITHE Airdriconians are the only Hon. Secretary. team in the five League divisions who have failed to re- ing were, Major C. M. Manners, gister a single away point.

STON VILLA should be able A to garner both points when they entertain Liverpool at Villa Park. Newcastle, like the Arsenal will be out to restore their prestige after a Cup defeat, and should prove too good for Leicester, who would look almost certain woodenspoonists at this stage of the championship.

TIHE following Clubs have retained their unbeaten home records: Sheffield Wednesday, Tottenham Hotspur, Bury, Brentford, lands on December 21. The letter Northampton Town, Hull City, Doncaster Rovers, Walsall, and Glasgow Rangers.

RADFORD CITY should main-D tain their position at the head of the Second Division. To-morrow they are engaged in a local "derby" which should produce at least one point, while the Spurs will probably leave Old Trafford pointless. Stoke and Bury should both win so that the Spurs may find themselves again in the fourth

THE following teams have yet to record an away victory: Birmingham, Leicester City, West Ham United, Cardiff City, Clapton Orient, Southport, Mansfield Town, Walsall, Rotherham United, Hartlepools and Airdriconians.
